TRUMAN SIGNS JAP PEACE TREATY RATIFICATION

EXT-TO-LAST STEP TOWARD ENDING WAR

Washington, April 15—(P)—President Truman signed the Japanese peace treaty today and the Department announced that the treaty with Japan will be made effective April 28.

The department said it announced the planned effective date of the treaty—which will end World War II in the Pacific—in order to permit an orderly transition of the present occupation status of Japan to full sovereignty.

A White House ceremony, the president said, will be held in the White House to mark the signing of the treaty. The president said that the treaty is the final step in the process of ending the war with Japan. He said that the treaty is the result of the work of the United States and its allies in the Pacific.

Plans for Fielding "Greatest Show on Earth" in Warren On July 18 Progressing Rapidly

Plans for fielding the gigantic Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus and for handling the immense crowds expected in Warren on July 18 when the circus will appear here under sponsorship of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce, are progressing with rapidity and efficiency according to committee reports made at a meeting last night in the American Legion Home, called by General Chairman Alan J. Blair.

That there will be ample parking space available, and at the nominal price of 25 cents, was shown in Parking Chairman Robert L. Johnson's report that he has secured use of nine and one-half acres of open ground in the immediate vicinity of Municipal Airport where the circus will pitch tent. Liability and property damage insurance will be assumed by the Jaycees.

The committee on block ticket sales has made plans to facilitate purchases by Warren plants and organizations. The American Le-

15 DEAD IN B-36 ACCIDENT AT SPOKANE

Spokane, Wash., April 15—(P)—A B-36 bomber crashed on take-off from Fairchild Air Force Base early today, killing 15 of the 17 aboard.

Two other crewmen suffered serious burns.

The giant, 10-engine bomber crashed in a farmer's field half a mile northwest of the base, and burst into flames.

The plane was attached to the 326th Squadron, 92nd Bomb Wing. The plane fell on the farm of Ernest Alf.

The B-36, world's largest bomber and America's foremost atom bomb carrier, skidded through a fence that rings Fairchild.

Pieces of the plane were scattered over a wide area.

Fairchild said the plane normally carries a crew of 15 but had two extra men on board this morning.

The flight was described as a routine training mission.

The B-36 has a range of 10,000 miles with its four jet and six piston engines.

This was the second 3 1/2 million dollar B-36 destroyed at Fairchild. One crashed and burned while landing at the base, eight miles west of Spokane, last winter. All the crewmen escaped before it caught fire.

All Circus and It Will Be Plenty Wide

At last night's committee meeting, several Jaycees said they had again heard of certain local people questioning the showing of the actual Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey "circus" in Warren in its entirety, going so far as to say that "Only half the circus will come."

While such statements are ludicrous and amusing, the Jaycees declare once and for all that just because Warren is a town of 15,000 population is no reason to doubt the big circus will be here in all its glory and complete in every way. There is only one circus and it will be in Warren on July 18. Furthermore, the Jaycees were granted sponsorship over Jamestown and expect to bring the circus here every year.

gion, voting last night in regular meeting, decided to entertain all children from the Hoffman Home. Organizations around town are to buy tickets for children otherwise unable to attend.

Public ticket sales for Warren residents will open at Kinneer's, 225 Liberty street, at 9 a. m. on June 20 and will continue through June 26 from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. each day, with local folk given first chance at seat selections. Starting June 27, and through June 30, sales at Kinneer's will be from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. and in Jamestown from 5 p. m. until 9 p. m. Sales in Kane will be in July 1, in Titusville on July 2, in Oil City on July 3, and on July 4 will be conducted only at War Memorial Field in conjunction with the Jaycees' annual July Fourth celebration. Starting July 5, and until July 18, sales will be only at Kinneer's. Given fine cooperation by Mr. Kinneer, the Jaycees will have a booth in the store decorated in circus style.

Tentative plans are being considered by the retailers' committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce for a "Circus March of Values" sale to be held in Warren in conjunction with the opening of ticket sales, June 20.

Many unusual publicity "stunts" have been planned. Starting July 1, a complete miniature of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus, the work of hobbyist Jim Deigan, will be on display in the corner window of the Metzger-Wright store.

It is hoped that permission will be granted for placing a musical float on the streets, carrying a small band, during noon luncheon and evening dinner hours, starting (Turn to Page Seven)

PRESIDENT TO VISIT FLOOD AREA TUESDAY

BULLETIN
Washington, April 15—(P)—President Truman today asked seven mid-western governors to meet with him at Omaha tomorrow to discuss measures for dealing with the flood emergency. The White House announced Truman will leave Washington by plane at 7 a. m. tomorrow for a flight over the flood area. The plane is to land at the Offutt Air Force base south of Omaha sometime between 1 and 2 p. m. for the conference with the governors. Truman invited Governors Stevenson of Illinois, Anderson of South Dakota, Brundage of North Dakota, Bessley of Iowa, Peterson of Nebraska, Kohler of Wisconsin and Anderson of Minnesota to meet him there.

Omaha, April 15—(P)—The marauding Missouri river today mauled its way down a soggy valley of misery.

The maddened river, having reduced to virtual ghost towns several communities along its rich valley while chasing thousands of families from their homes, swept on in the biggest Missouri river flood ever recorded.

But the Missouri wasn't alone in spreading misery.

The Mississippi, too, had swept to record crests in Minnesota and Wisconsin, while in other states smaller streams tossed punches.

The Red Cross estimated that at eight-state area where the waters are raging, a total of 18,939 families and some 76,000 persons have had to flee their homes.

This figure covers the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas and Missouri.

Most of this flight of people and their possessions was in the valley of the muddy Missouri.

At Washington, the Red Cross said a big Missouri smash through at Omaha-Council Bluffs—raising the total of homeless families to 20,000—would place the Missouri flood among the ten biggest in 71 years of Red Cross relief operations.

While misery grew in the valley and millions of tons of rich top soil sloshed downriver, men and machines at Omaha and Council Bluffs, Ia., (combined population 366,000) toiled to build up the flood walls and dikes that they hoped would match the river's mightiest wallop.

FIRST OF 28TH WILL ARRIVE THURSDAY

New York, April 15—(P)—The New York port of embarkation today announced that the USNS General Darby is scheduled to arrive here Thursday bringing rotation troops home from Europe.

Among the troops are 226 members of the 43rd Division from Connecticut; 62 men from Rhode Island; 97 men from the 28th Division from Pennsylvania and an additional 643 men of the 28th Division (states unlisted).

All of the troops will go from the New York port of embarkation to Camp Kilmer, N. J., for processing.

An Army spokesman said no breakdown of the list of names of the troops or hometowns is presently available.

19-inch Brown Trout Is First Day's Catch

Glenn Martin, local fisherman, dropped into Don Finley's store about mid-morning today to proudly register his first large catch of the season, a brown trout weighing two and one-half pounds and measuring 19 and three-fourths inches in length. It was a beauty and was to grace the Martin's table later in the day.

"Maybe he tracked it down in the snowstorm and clubbed it to death," opined Don, the old maestro.

On the sport page of this issue will be found an announcement about a contest the Times-Mirror is staging in connection with the trout season.

Local Company Denied New Wage Adjustment

Philadelphia, April 15—(P)—The Regional Wage Stabilization Board announced today that it has denied a petition by DeLuxe Metal Furniture Company of Warren, Pa., to make certain wage adjustments.

The decision, affecting 135 employees of the company, denied a company request to pay double-time plus holiday pay for all work done on a holiday.

The petition, filed jointly by the firm and the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, was turned down on the ground that it is not the practice in the Warren region to pay this rate for holiday work.

CHAIRMAN OF WAGE BOARD IS WITNESS

Washington, April 15—(P)—Chairman Nathan P. Fensinger of the Wage Stabilization Board today questioned senators today that the board's recommendations in the crucial steel dispute were "clearly within the board's jurisdiction and authority."

He said that "it would be clear to any person taking the trouble to find out."

Fensinger, under strong fire from many members of congress for the steel proposals, appeared before the Senate Labor Committee. He said allegations the board "exceeded its authority and ignored its own regulations" were as far from the truth as anything could be.

He was called to give his opinion on an amendment prepared by Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) to the Taft-Hartley Act making presidential seizure of plants and facilities legal in certain cases.

The bill would give the president clear authority in specific instances to seize plants affected by labor disputes. American industry generally, and many legislators, have condemned the president's seizure of the nation's steel industry a week ago as a "usurpation" of power.

Technically, the Senate Labor Committee is starting public hearings on a bill covering the president's emergency seizure power in labor disputes, but Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told a reporter his committee colleagues are certain "to wander into all controversies about the steel industry seizure."

PHYSICIAN ACQUIRES AN OLD LANDMARK

Announcement was made today of the sale by Mrs. Marie Hamilton of her residence at 308 Market street, to Dr. H. M. Lewis, who recently returned to Warren after having been called back into the Army where he served as a lieutenant colonel, chief of surgery at the Army Hospital at Fort Rucker, Ala.

Originally built by the White family in the 1870's, the residence is a well-known landmark and one of Warren's finer homes. It was at one time owned by the late Judge Wilmot Lindsey, father of the late Judge Edward Lindsey.

Mrs. Hamilton expects to maintain a home in Warren. She will go to Annapolis this weekend to visit a son, Midshipman David Hamilton, who attends the U. S. Naval Academy.

KILLED BY LOCOMOTIVE

Pittsburgh, April 15—(P)—James Davis, 58, a Pittsburgh employee of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, was killed as a locomotive struck him yesterday in the southside yards of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp.

BACKS TRUMAN ACTION

Pittsburgh, April 15—(P)—The city council of Pittsburgh says President Truman was "brave and determined" in seizing the nation's steel industry and averting a strike. The All-Democratic council voted approval of the president's action yesterday.

Permission Given for "Fill" And Entrance to Parking Lot; Fast Time to Start April 27th

Numerous visitors who crowded the side lines at last night's April meeting of Council found the Borough Fathers in a voting mood, and in a 70-minute session heard them give their blessing to the filling in of the old Mill Race, their permission for John Hanna to construct an entrance to his parking lot property at the Liberty street bridge, their approval to purchase of a leaf collector at a cost of $4,040, to appointment of a Parking Commission, and authorization of daylight saving time in the borough from midnight of Saturday, April 26, to midnight of Saturday, September 27.

Every proposed action was given approval, although the roll call on the Nelson and Ellberg proposition did receive three "nays" . . . from Councilman Brackett Ayers, William B. Pasquerette and J. A. Carbon.

Council launched into the Mill Race problem immediately after the financial committee report by Chairman Leon Laskaris, which showed a payroll March along with miscellaneous bills of $7,173.58, and included approval of a change in the Borough deposits guarantee by the Warren Bank & Trust Company, depository.

SCOUTS AT COUNCIL

Accompanied by Scoutmaster Gail Barker, Boy Scout Troop 11 of the Lacy PTA, attended Council meeting, Monday night, with the following Scouts on hand: Bill Hedman, Craig Kerr, Bob Larson, Mike Kotmar, Norman Main, Phil Mathyer, Max Zaprowski, Ben Reynolds and Dick Reynolds.

S. H. Rasmussen, chairman of the public works committee, who had been absent from town during previous discussions, made a lengthy report on his committee's findings in regard to the Mill Race. He said the committee had met with Chamber of Commerce representatives, Borough Manager L. M. McConnell, Borough Engineer C. W. Harris, the firm of Nelson and Ellberg and John Hanna, owner of properties along the Mill Race between Liberty street and his automobile dealership on Pennsylvania avenue.

While Council went only as far, last night, as paving the way for Nelson and Ellberg to get permission for the proposed fill-in from Water Power and Resources Board of Pennsylvania, the importance of this action was revealed in the ensuing discussions.

Regarding the all-important question of the expense involved in extending the Borough's storm sewers, Mr. Rasmussen reported that Nelson and Ellberg had agreed to "go along" in this matter, extend the sewers as the fill-in progressed and at as low a cost as possible. Mr. Ayers' demand that this be clarified was answered with the statement that Nelson and Ellberg had assured the committee it would cost nearer $5,000 than $10,000, the original estimate, to do this work and that the expenditures would come only as the work progressed. It also developed that Nelson and Ellberg have promised the Borough a 10 or 15-year lease on the lower end of the proposed fill-in for whatever the borough would use it, with the right to buy at market price at the end of 10 years. It was revealed that an option also exists, enabling the Borough to buy the property at a nominal figure before expiration, April 14, 1953.

Councilman Carbon rose to offer emphatic objections to any expenditures for Mill Race elimination until "residents who have paid taxes 50 or 60 years" are given the benefit of storm sewers. He refused to be pacified by de-

Ballotting in New Jersey Is Reduced By Drizzling Rains

Newark, N. J., April 15—(P)—Drizzling rains held down the vote in some state areas today as New Jersey Republicans registered their preference for the party's presidential nomination.

A similar Democratic primary was virtually a no-contest affair, with Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee as the sole entry on that party's preference (popularity) ballot.

A smog of political uncertainty hung over a three-sided popularity contest among Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota which Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll said should determine how New Jersey casts its 58 GOP Chicago convention ballots.

Early voting was "spotty and light in New Jersey's industrial sections. Despite the rains, however, residential districts where Republicans are concentrated reported heavy balloting in some instances.

The difficulty of marking complicated ballots, or of manipulating voting machines burdened with long lists of names, slowed some of the balloting.

Although Eisenhower was established as the favorite, some of his backers were not too sure of the result.

This contest also has former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota as an added starter. But Stassen has been so badly shelacked elsewhere by both Taft and Eisenhower that he is not counted a serious contender.

The Republicans elect 10 delegates at large and 28 in districts. Taft supporters are contesting for seven district posts and two at large, in addition to any "independent" candidates who might back him if they were elected.

Police Report Shows 58 Cited in March For Driving Too Fast for Conditions

Although a constant patrol of traffic by city police cannot prevent some accidents from happening, undoubtedly many were prevented during March as city police made 58 arrests of motorists for driving too fast for conditions, the greatest single cause of crashes.

In addition, police made 28 arrests for traffic light violations, any of which could have resulted in an accident as cars came through the opposing lanes on a green light. Three more were booked for reckless driving, and seven for driving past stop signs without the proper stop.

Despite police vigilance, the March report lists 11 accidents with three persons injured, one pedestrian struck and $4680 in property damage. No bicycles were involved, nor were there any fatalities.

Eighteen overweight trucks were picked up, six of these for a 5% overload and 12 for 10% or more overload. One motorist was arrested for driving over a fire hose, one for driving an unregistered vehicle, and one for driving at night without lights.

Total fines collected during the month were $1957.50, with only $4 remaining unpaid as of the close of the month.

Police answered 114 calls, conducted 27 minor investigations, three major investigations, found 15 doors unlocked at night, answered 11 fire calls, recovered $1685 in stolen goods, policed eight special events, locked up 35 dogs in the pound, made four court appearances.

Arrests were listed as two for drunkenness, four for disorderly conduct, one drunken driver, one assault and battery, and 630 parking tickets.

Chief Mike Evan and 12 officers were on duty the entire month, with Patrolman Clayton L. Rhoades serving part of the month prior to his resignation from the force.

J. D. S. signal corps balloon. The balloon had descended, about two weeks ago, on the Gardner and Putnam property, one mile above Hemlock, and Mr. Hinkle had at first thought it to be an albino deer. He did not want to make the steep climb by himself, so awaited the arrival of his son. The balloon, made of a fine grade of rubber, is almost intact but a sort of box kite arrangement, covered with aluminum foil, to which it was attached, was destroyed. There is a small battery box, with instructions for starting.

In cooperation with Manager George C. Sarvis, of the Warner Brothers Library Theatre, two tickets will be given the 10 winners.

The other nine winners picked as best in their age groups are: age 4—Robert Caldwell, 503 Beech St.; age 5—Shirley Wayda, R. D. 2, Pittsfield; age 7—Sally Andrews, 105 Averill street; age 8—Robert S. Schaeffer, R. D. 1, Warren; age 9—Robert Ladner, 117 Biddle street; age 10—Robert Hayes, 7 East St. Clair street; age 11—John Gleason, 407 Fourth avenue, and age 12—Fred Danielson, 507 Valler street.

With the last line of each verse is the one submitted by Linda Olson, they read as follows:

Number 1
As Bugs Bunny spreads Easter-time cheer,
He is due to be startled, we fear
The eggs that he'll hide
A meal will provide
For Sylvester, the cat, who lurks near.

Number 2
Every year for his Easter day fun,
Elmer Fudd picks up eggs, one by one,
But Bugs, for his treat,
Picks carrots to eat—
And Cero comes on the run.

Number 3
Poor Petunia, and Cicero, too!
We're sure that they'd run if they knew
Bugs Bunny is slick!
He's pulling a trick
For their Easter egg will soon break in two!

Red Cross Drives for Annual Fund And Special Flood Relief Are Oversubscribed

Official figures from the March Red Cross Fund Drive, released by Chairman A. M. Gibson, disclose a total of $24,239.80 raised to date with some cash and pledges still trickling into Red Cross headquarters.

Warren county's original quota was $22,625 and to this was added an emergency sum of $1,500 for special flood relief, making the grand total $24,125. Thus the campaign is over the top with a little to spare.

Mr. Gibson stated that he was extremely gratified that the total had been met and was high in his praise of all the volunteer workers, plus the interest and aid of the public at large, that made this goal possible within the allotted time.

In presenting his detailed report he called special attention to three of his divisions which did outstanding work in the Red Cross campaign. They were Special Gifts, Wallace Cowden chairman; Residential, Brace S. Knabenshue, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harold Baker, Mrs. Richard G. Smith and Mrs. A. R. Stubbs; and the important County Division, headed by Donald E. Schuler and R. E. Sires. Thanks of Mr. Gibson and the Red Cross Chapter is also due to other chairmen, ward captains and lieutenants and all volunteer workers at headquarters and elsewhere who gave so unselfishly of their time; not only during the month of March but long before this in helping set the campaign up that it might function successfully.

Below are listed the six main divisions, and all chairmen, with amounts raised:

General chairman, Allen G. Gibson; Speakers' Bureau chairman, Sam Bonavita.

Special Gifts, Wallace Cowden, chairman, $5,395.00

Industry, B. W. Knapp, chairman, $3,095.39.

Commercial, Creed Erickson, chairman, $1,198.50.

Residential, B. S. Knabenshue, chairman, $9,264.45.

Clubs and Organizations, S. Knox Haiper, chairman, $284.26.

County, D. E. Schuler, chairman, $5,002.20.

Total, $24,239.80.

The $5,000 and more turned in by the county was most gratifying to all those in the county who worked hard to insure complete coverage of all areas outside Warren borough. The borough total of well over $9,000, well ahead of last year's figures, speaks eloquently for the work performed by Mr. Knabenshue and his aides and captains. A break-down of the nine wards, with captains in charge, shows how the borough total was obtained:

- 1, $1,118.75, Mrs. Sheridan E. Brown.
- 2, $671.05, Mrs. Randall Clark.
- 3, $717.50, Mrs. George Sarvis.
- 4, $367.35, Mrs. John Culbertson.
- 5, $2,511.00, Mrs. Harold Stohl.
- 6, $1,401.65, Mrs. James Prantz.
- 7, $620.00, Mrs. Thomas Conway.
- 8, $1,296.00, Mrs. Freeman Peterson.
- 9, $561.15, Mrs. Stanley Wheaton.

Rural box holders turned in nearly $1,000 of the $5,000 county quota and other high spots in the county were: North Warren with $572.82; Sheffield with $808.15; Youngsville with $654.25; Tidouite with $316.70; Clarendon with $250.00 and Russell with $225.50.

In all there were nearly 250 workers engaged in the Fund Campaign and to them, the Times-Mirror and all others who had an active part in making the drive a success, Mr. Gibson and his fellow chapter officers extend a sincere "Thank You."

The detailed report of collections by county committees will be printed later.

Is College Club Speaker

Members of the Warren Association of College Women are looking forward to a program out of the ordinary at their open meeting at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday at the YWCA activities building, when H. Katherine Smith and her See-Ing-Eye dog, Quinta, will be club guests.

Pennsylvania born, Miss Smith is a native of Wilkes-Barre, but immediately following her graduation with Phi Beta Kappa honors at Vassar College, she persuaded her mother to stake out with her in search of a news-writing job in a larger city, where such work would be more specialized than in the home town. Buffalo was their first stop and five days after graduation, she was engaged as a writer for the Courier-Express.

Accompanied by her mother, she made a six months' trip to South America several years ago and has already related for College Club some of her experiences on that journey. Two years ago, she earned at University of Buffalo, some of the credits for her master's degree in romance languages.

On this visit to Warren, she will tell of last year's trip to Europe, with Quinta as her sole companion. They flew the Atlantic to and from Europe and traveled mostly by air while in that country. Her topic tomorrow evening will be "Good Listener in Europe," since her newspaper column is entitled "Buffalo's Good Listener." She will tell of experiences and contacts in Spain, France and Luxembourg, where she was fortunately able to speak with the people in their native tongue, and in Holland. She was received by a Spanish countess; a French duchess; Juliana, Queen of the Netherlands; Perle Mesta, U. S. Minister to Luxembourg; the daughter-in-law of President Vincent Auriol of France, Aviatrice Jacqueline Auriol; and by General Dwight Eisenhower.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

TEST YOUR INGENUITY: FIGURE CORRECT PLAY

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
When today's hand was played in a team match, both South players reached a contract of four hearts. One declarer found a subtle but simple way to make his contract.

In both rooms West opened the nine of spades. East won with the ace and returned a spade, hoping West could ruff. Dummy won with the king of spades, and declarer drew trumps with the ace and jack. He next led the deuce of diamonds from dummy, East played low, and South won with the king of diamonds.

Up to this point the play in both rooms was identical, but here the two declarers parted company. Decide for yourself how you would have continued—assuming that you could not see the hands of the defenders.

In the first room South led his remaining diamond and put up dummy's jack. East took the ace of diamonds and desperately returned the king of clubs—and South found he had to lose two club tricks no matter how he squirmed.

In the second room declarer thought more carefully about the diamonds and clubs. It would do him no good to set up just one of dummy's diamonds. That would enable him to discard only one club from his hand, which would still leave him with two losing clubs.

It would do him no harm to set up no diamonds at all in dummy. The club situation would remain unchanged by bad luck in diamonds.

It would make a difference, however, if he could somehow set up both of dummy's diamond picture cards. In short he needed two further diamond tricks and it could cost him nothing to try for them.

Since there was only one chance, South led his remaining diamond and played low from the dummy. East had to play the ace, exactly as declarer had hoped, and now the game was in the bag. East returned the king of clubs, but South won with the ace, entered dummy with a trump, and discarded two clubs on the queen and jack of diamonds. He could then cheerfully give up one club trick.

Strike Out on Your Own in Your Thirst for Knowledge

"I DON'T know anything about fixing up a house," a young mother writes me. "If I just had time to take a course in interior decoration."

Aren't we women getting "course happy," thinking that we can't learn anything unless we enroll for a course or join a study group?

After all, any woman can give herself a course in home decorating, or in anything else, if she has the initiative to strike out on her own in search of the knowledge she wants.

There are plenty of good books on decorating in the public libraries. There are a number of decorating magazines on the newsstands. Daily newspapers carry a great deal of information in their advertisements and women's page features on new trends in decorating. And, of course, a woman can learn a lot by looking in the best stores and figuring out why some rooms in private homes and public places are pleasing and why others are not.

DECIDE TO LEARN, THEN DO IT

ACTUALLY, no course can give a woman as much knowledge of a subject like interior decorating as she could pick up on her own, if she could put her mind to it.

Interior decoration isn't something that can be learned in a few easy lessons, but it can be learned in time.

Whatever it is you wish you could take a course in, don't put off learning with the excuse that, since you haven't the time or money for the course, the knowledge is beyond you.

Instead, decide to teach yourself what you want to know. And don't forget that "doing" is the best teacher. Start putting your ideas into effect—and you may be surprised at how quickly you progress in your self-taught "course."

DON'T SUN-FADE your colored clothes!

DRY them in an automatic GAS CLOTHES DRYER

Sun rays—so healthful to you—are death to your colored wash. So dry your clothes in an automatic GAS clothes dryer. Colors are safe. Your clothes come out of the dryer pure and fresh... sweeter than when hung up to dry.

TAKE IT EASY ON WASHDAY!

An automatic GAS clothes dryer takes out all the back-breaking drudgery of stretching and taking down lines, lugging heavy baskets of wet clothes, pinning up clothes, taking them down again. It's more like fun than work, drying your clothes in a gas dryer.

PUT MORE LEISURE IN YOUR WASHDAY!

The time you save with an automatic GAS clothes dryer comes in handy for doing other things—pleasure, hobbies, visiting, civic affairs... or for just plain taking it easy.

Wash and iron the same day—and put an extra day into your week. Your clothes dry so fast, they're ready for ironing in no time.

Tumble-dried, your laundry is wrinkle-free, and many pieces you ordinarily iron can be folded neatly and put away without ironing.

County PSEA Unit Is Having Circus Theme for Annual

The Warren County Branch, Pennsylvania State Education Association, has decided that circus fun shouldn't be enjoyed exclusively by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and, to that end, has selected a "big top" theme for its annual dinner and business meeting.

This affair is to be held at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, April 30, in the North Warren community house.

Crowns, caged animals, and a ringmaster will greet each one as he arrives to enjoy a dinner served by the Willing Workers' Class of the North Warren Presbyterian church.

Selection of officers for the 1952-53 school year will be one of the major items coming up during the business session which follows. The program will consist of "Just Fun," with square dancing and side shows. Arrangements are in charge of the social committee, of which Mrs. Bernard Joy is chairman.

Local Dairy Introduces New Sanitary Container for the Distribution of Milk

Walker Creamery Products Co. return. This new container is made of strong fibroboard and yet is so light it weighs approximately 1/10 of the common glass bottle. The standard quart size container occupies only about half the space required by a glass bottle.

Walker's new Pure-Pak machine hums along automatically while it forms the container, sterilizes it inside and out with hot molten paraffin, chills the container, fills it with cool fresh milk and hermetically seals it all in a few seconds... and without the touch of human hands! Mr. Walker states, "The Pure-Pak milk container is now in use in 45 States as well as in many foreign countries. We are proud indeed to offer our quality milk to the people of Warren in this nationally advertised container. The advantages of our new Pure-Pak milk container are just another example of our desire to better serve the people of Warren."

CONTEST WILL RAIN THREATENS AS MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL GETS UNDER WAY IN EIGHT CITIES

WILL RAIN THREATEN THROUGH 1952 SEASON

Anglers of Pennsylvania came alive at 5 a. m. today for no better reason—it's the first day of trout season. According to executives of the Fish Commission the state undertakes the largest stock program in its history, with million four hundred thousand in the waters. A total of 29,000 trout have been placed in Warrenton alone, and that should be plenty of happy anglers. The state has done its share in stocking the streams, the Fish Commission will again sponsor out contest with cash prizes given for the biggest trout caught during the season, which through July 31. There will be three divisions in contest with prizes to be given for the biggest rainbow, biggest brook, and the biggest blue trout. The awards for division will consist of three dollars for the biggest fish. These are the rules for the contest. The contest opens today and continues throughout the trout season. All entries must be caught in Pennsylvania. The contest is open to both men and women, and also boys and girls. Employees of the Times-Mirror are not eligible to enter. Length of the fish from the tip of the nose to the notch in the tail will be used in determining contest winners. Weight classifications will not be considered in contest. Contestants must bring their fish to the Sports Department at the Times-Mirror where they will be officially measured.

Sportsmen of Pine Grove Now Have 62 Club Memberships

Tuesday, Apr. 15 — Clarence Akeley, Sr., has been elected by the Pine Grove Sportsmen's Association as its delegate to the Warren County Council of Sportsmen's Clubs. This action was taken at the April meeting of the local group, held in the IOOF hall, with Mr. Akeley presiding. Six new members reported at this session brought the club's total to 62 to date. All the officers and 22 members were present to hear Ross Bailey, county fish warden, talk of the trout-stocking program and trapping of foxes. He was also able to answer many questions put to him by the group. It was reported one dozen traps had been purchased and are in charge of Archie Phillips, chairman for the fox-trapping project. Roy Martin reported Harry Schmidt, Warren, had inspected the proposed ringneck pheasant-raising site but no definite action has been taken on this project. Another report showed $20 received from the trapping of rabbits by Larry Park; and the financial report showed a balance of $154.44 in the treasury. At the close of the evening, lunch was served by a committee consisting of Al Ritchie, James Akeley and Harry Pearson.

SUNSET LOOP TO ORGANIZE NEXT MONDAY

With the Warren Merchants as the only ball club that had actual representation at the Sunset Baseball League meeting last night, President Nick Creola immediately called another reorganization meeting for next Monday when definite representatives from teams planning on entering the league will have to be present. Among the 10 present for the session were players from last year's Sons of Italy and Floridan teams and some new boys who would like to enter a team composed from the Conewango Avenue section. However, the Merchants' delegates, Jack Baker, and Smokey Bennett, were the only ones to report they had their uniforms and definite backing. As last year, a four-team league is again desired, and it is hoped by league officials that interested players will get their teams organized and be represented at the meeting next Monday, which will be at 7:30 p. m. in the Times-Mirror editorial office.

NEW THRILLS PROMISED AS GAMES START

By JOE REICHLER
New York, April 15 — A quarter of a million fans in eight cities were expected to jam ball parks today as the 1952 major league baseball season got underway. Despite the loss and impending loss of such topnotch performers as Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr, Gerry Coleman, Monte Irvin, Willie Mays and others, the new season gives promise of new thrills and excitement to match those of previous campaigns. All clubs will present new faces. The new names include Billy Loeb, Ed Matthews, Toby Atwell, Javy Williams, Bob Del Greco, Dick Hall, Scooter Koshorek, Jim Fridley, Hec Rodriguez, Jim Riera, George Schmees, Leo Thomas, Clint Courtney and Ben Taylor. The managers were optimistic, with Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians brushily predicting an American League flag. Manager Charlie Dressen of Brooklyn said his Dodgers ought to win in the National League. The odds-makers agree with Dressen and Lopez and have installed the Indians and Dodgers as favorites; Brooklyn 3-5, Cleveland at 9-5. The Giants and Yankees are second choices, the former at 5-2 and the latter 2-1. President Truman, the nation's No. 1 fan, and only switch hurler since William Howard Taft, started the presidential pitching custom in 1910, was to toss out the first ball in Washington where the Senators were to engage the Red Sox. The day's largest crowd of some 52,000, including Queen Juliana of The Netherlands, was expected to attend the Tigers-Browns opener in Detroit. The Cardinals, who inaugurated the night opener in 1950, again will raise the curtain with an after-dark affair in St. Louis before 20,000. Pittsburgh's Murry Dickson (20-16) was slated to go against Gerry Staley (19-13).

C., in the Coastal Plain League. With Allentown's training camp at Albany, Ga., coming to a close last Saturday, Juliano was one of the last men to be replaced with veterans sent to Allentown from the Class A clubs in the Cards' set-up. "Goldsboro is a fine place for Tommy to start and he will learn a great deal there," said Ray Peebles, general manager of the Jamestown Falcons, today, when he learned of Juliano's transfer. Peebles was enthusiastic in his praise of the set-up at Goldsboro, saying it is really a "young man's club."

Promise of Savage Mauling in Graziano And Robinson Brawl

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Chicago, April 15 — Ray Robinson's middleweight title defense against mauler Rocky Graziano tomorrow night is expected to be a savage slugfest that will fall far short of going the scheduled 15 round distance. Most observers believe the brawl will either be stopped by the referee for a TKO or end in a 10-count knockout before the 10th round. The only surprise, they say, would be a Graziano victory. Champion Sugar Ray is heavily backed to ring up his 131st professional win and score his 36th kayo since he flashed out of the amateur ranks as a 20-year-old sensation in 1940. Robinson is a solid 3-1 choice for the televised fight. The prospect of an action-packed scrap, carrying somewhat the aura of brutality and blood-spilling of a bull fight, may lure more than 19,000 customers to Chicago stadium.

Penn State's Squad Looks to Pitchers

State College, April 15—Penn State's hopes for a winning campaign on the baseball diamond will depend largely on the progress of Coach Joe Bedenk's three-man pitching staff. Whereas Owen Dougherty, crafty left-hander, carried the load almost single-handedly in last year's campaign of ten wins and three losses, Bedenk will turn to three right-handers for his 1952 fling. Bill Everson, of Philadelphia, and Jack Krumrine, of State College, saw only limited service last year as Everson won two of three starts and Krumrine triumphed in his lone assignment. Krumrine is a junior, with still another year to play, whereas Everson is a senior. The third hurler, a newcomer to the squad, is Keith Vessling, 180-pound six-footer who also looms as the starting wingback on Rip Engle's 1952 football team. The Clarendon sophomore is highly regarded by Bedenk, who expects him to develop into a front-rank pitcher.

Singing Sisters Find Fame Has Drawbacks

By GENE HANDSAKER

AP Newfeatures

Hollywood—"I do a lot of that sitting down at the piano and just banging away," says 16-year-old Cynthia Strother.
Result? The hit song "Bermuda," recorded by Cynthia and her sister Kay, who has since turned 12. They call themselves the Bell Sisters after their mother's easier-to-remember maiden name. Sales of their record reached the half-million mark in 12 weeks.

And for these Seal Beach girls life lately has been as exciting as Cinderella's. There've been personal appearances... write-ups... broadcasts with Hope and Crosby... telecasts with Sinatra and Dinah Shore... and plans for their first train and plane rides—the latter clear to Bermuda.

But sudden fame has its complications. Boys at Huntington Beach High school where Cynthia is a junior, are a little shy about asking a celebrity for dates. Several of her girl chums had dates for the junior-senior prom before she did.

"I think the boys are a little scared," Cynthia said. "They think you're something big. They think somebody else has already asked you to go."

Composing the torchy tune was an accident, something I do for a hobby. The prettily blue-eyed honey-blond added "About two years ago, I happened to pick out this tune on the piano. Later I wrote the words, with the family helping."

Cynthia thought of a line about a couple sailing. Her mother placed the couple on a coral sea. "I think I suggested 'Bermuda,'" said the girls' father. "A couple always goes on a honeymoon to Bermuda."

Neither he nor any of his family has ever been there, however. Gene Strother, husky and 43, is a plant electrician at the North American aircraft factory.

Last Halloween the girls sang "Bermuda" on Peter Pottery's local TV show, on which amateur tune-smiths demonstrate their compositions. A publisher on the panel of judges liked it and brought it out.

The girls made a demonstration record, with Cynthia playing the piano (by ear, she never has learned to read notes). RCA Victor heard the sample and made the commercial recording with glossy orchestral backing to the girls' peppy voices.

The Cinderella stuff began. The girls appeared on a big Girl Scout program at Los Angeles' Shriners Auditorium with Robert Montgomery and Lucille Ball.

For this occasion a department store gave them their first night in a hotel, putting them up at the swank Ambassador with their parents.

A scheduled appearance on Bing Crosby's broadcast in San Francisco is giving them their first train trip. The plane flight to Bermuda is in connection with an invitation from the Chamber of Commerce to spend Easter vacation there.

Cynthia doesn't think sudden fame has changed their first night in a hotel, putting them up at the swank Ambassador with their parents.

Kay, who's chubby and brown-eyed with light brown hair is in the sixth grade at Seal Beach Elementary School. Her hobbies include her hamster, a recent birthday present, and playing the marimba in the school orchestra. She and two sisters are members of a Girl Scout troop led by their mother.

There are six daughters, all told, and a 7-year-old son. The family lives compactly, with the help of bunk beds, in a two-bedroom house at Seal Beach, 44 miles south of Hollywood.

Strother has no musical background. His wife, Edith, played violin and sang in a choir back in Ashland, Ky., where the family formerly lived. She gave up her music to rear her seven children.

Cynthia had a little piano training in school and practiced on two neighbors' pianos.

Another neighbor had no use for her piano after her son grew up and married, the father recalled, "so she gave it to us two years ago. I called in five or six neighbors, gave them a bottle of beer apiece, and we rolled it around the block on the sidewalk to our house."

This was the piano on which Cynthia composed "Bermuda." She has a newer piano now, however.

Recordings by the Bell Sisters since "Bermuda" include "Wheel of Fortune," "Poor Whippoorwill," and with Phil Harris "Hambone." The girls want to go on making records. Cynthia says they'll use the proceeds to go to college and maybe to buy a bigger house.

START SINGING AND HUMMING: CAMPAIGN SONGS ARE COMING—Now that Eisenhower supporters have lustily taken up the Irving Berlin hit, "I Like Ike," you can bet your favorite-son label pin that rival campaign managers will throw their "tune sense" in. Pictured above is evidence that politicians have been saying it with music since 1840. If this year's crop of campaign songs is anywhere near as colorful and catchy as those celebrating Lincoln and Al Smith, the 1952 race should please everyone—musically, that is.

Curt Simmons Has Phillies Contract With an Increase

Philadelphia, April 15.—P.—Curt Simmons, 22-year-old lefthander, whose return from Army duty has bolstered the Philadelphia Phillies' pennant hopes, is signed, sealed and delivered for the 1952 season.

Simmons signed his new contract after a session with owner Bob Carpenter yesterday. Terms of the pact were not disclosed but Carpenter admitted Simmons received a raise over his last contract.

Simmons recently returned to the U.S. after serving with the 28th Infantry Division in Germany. He was called to active duty in September, 1950, toward the end of the National League season. Simmons is believed to have received $15,000 for his efforts in 1950.

He has said it will take him several weeks of conditioning before he will be ready to take his turn on the mound.

ANSWER FOR OFF-SEASON SHOOTING

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

The numbers 222 on the latest varmint cartridge don't mean a thing. Nowhere on the cartridge, its bullet, or the gun that fires it is there a significant measurement of 222 thousandths of an inch.

But the new little varmint-popper which is a true 22 in that it drives a bullet 224 inches in diameter through a barrel 219 inches across the lands, certainly has come to mean plenty to shooters the country over. I doubt that any cartridge has caught the rifleman's fancy so quickly. Perhaps the figures should stand for "It's too, too, too good to be true."

I first met the little 222 before the public heard of it. With the designer from the Remington plant who had nursed the idea along we tried the only rifles then built for it hunting woodchucks in upper New York State.

We popped the clever choppers at 100 yards, at 200, even at 300, and the farmers whose fields were being cut up by the chucks were pleased. But the first bullets and their velocity at that time didn't quite please us, so back to the laboratory for a final revamping before it was turned over to shooters as a varmint load whose 50-grain bullet sails along at 3200 feet per second.

That makes the youngster fastest of all the 22 centerfires except the .220 Swift, top speedster. It's called a 250-yard varmint cartridge. That is, a moderately expert rifleman should surely get rid of the chuck at 250 yards. If the rifle has been targeted so its shots center 1 1/2 inches high at 100 yards it will strike dead on at 200, and only about 4 inches low at 250, which is flat shooting.

With its light report, the newest varmint load is as well suited to shooting in semi-settled areas as the .22 Hornet. It carries its destruction to varmint considerably further, with ample speed so that the bullet will not bounce or ricochet off even pasture land. It is very little more expensive to shoot than the Hornet or the Bee, either of which it will beat all hollow for either accuracy or range. Handloaders can cook up a dosage of 20-21 grains of DuPont 4198 powder with 55-grain bullets, velocity also about 3200, that is bad medicine even for foxes or coyotes.

Year-round shooting is important to conservation. The varmint-trained rifleman, used to taking his shot calmly, steady in his holding and keen in his judgment of range, is not going to wound and lose larger game animals such as deer.

The big-game hunter cannot be sure of his sheep at 300 yards—and is not even a sportsman to shoot at it—if he is one of those who put their rifles away in December and leave them closeted until October rolls around again. A cartridge like the .222 is the answer for off-season shooting.

PAY FINES

Chester Van Sile, of Russell R. D. 1, and William Van Sile of 9 N. Kendall street, Bradford, were arrested by the Sheriff Larry Lander, Deputy Sheriff Sandy Seacor and state police yesterday on charges of larceny. When arraigned last evening before Justice of the Peace Paul Leiby of Rortown, they entered pleas of guilty and paid fines of $10 and costs each. The charge grew out of the alleged theft of tools and a battery charger belonging to Elk township supervisors over a year ago. Value of the stolen goods was placed at $75.

$16,000,000 Is Goal In Cancer Crusade

The month of April has been named Cancer Control Month by Presidential Proclamation and Act of Congress. During April the American Cancer Society conducts its Crusade, which this year has a goal of $16,000,000.

The Society is the only voluntary, national agency in cancer control with three vast programs: research, education and services to patients. Its purpose is to save millions of the 22,000,000 Americans now alive who will die of cancer if present death rates continue.

Since the research program began in 1945, the ACS has awarded more than $20,000,000 to scientists and institutions conducting the world's most exciting medical investigations. All the modern means of communication are used to teach the public that cancer is curable when detected early.

A professional education program keeps doctors up-to-date on newest detection and treatment techniques so they are equipped to give the finest service to an alerted public. Volunteers perform a hundred humanitarian services to aid and comfort those with cancer.

The Cancer Crusade raises the funds needed to keep these programs rolling. Remember! Cancer strikes one in five. Strike back. Give to conquer cancer.

All members of the choir assisted in the cantata. A fine program of Easter music was given Sunday evening at the EUB church, with the men of the church having several numbers on the program.

Murder is Forgetful

BY WILLIAM G. BOGART

Chapter 42)
NANCY ENGLAND simply sat there and stared at them, an intense, defiant manner about her stiff figure.

Johnny's gaze flicked to Irene Smith. The woman's tall, graceful form had passed on the threshold of the room. Her gray eyes deep with understanding now, traveled across the library to the motionless figure sitting in the chair. It was a direct, level look containing neither fear nor anger.

Nick Walker had started to exclaim, "Nancy! Where in the deuce..."

He stopped. Nancy England ignored him. She kept watching Irene Smith. Everyone, now, was aware of the tension in the room.

It was Johnny Saxon who said, "Well, let's take our hair down."

THE storm was letting up. There was still some wind, but the thunder and lightning had moved on and away. Occasionally a gust of wind threw a spray of raindrops up against the library windows.

Kay was saying, "Mother, are you sure you're all right?" Irene Smith was now seated in a chair directly across from Nancy England, her sister. Irene kept watching the dark-eyed woman in a strange way.

"Yes," Irene murmured, "I'm all right, darling." She pressed her daughter's hand. Kay was seated on the arm of the chair.

Nick Walker, standing somewhat apart from the others, was frowning as he looked curiously at Nancy England. The nurse, Karen, and the doctor also sat down.

Moe, eyes large and questioning, asked, "Does anyone first want a drink?" He acted nervous. No one spoke. Moe helped himself.

Johnny was saying, "You were looking for Irene's manuscript, weren't you, Nancy?" Nancy England sat stiffly in the chair. Her head did not turn to look at Johnny Saxon. But her eyes did, shifting in their sockets to give him a single, challenging glance. Then they looked directly at him. He did not answer.

Johnny shrugged and looked at Irene Smith. "Were you just starting downstairs when you saw Nancy?" he asked.

The woman's gray eyes held his. It was Kay who said, "You understand, mother, Mr. Saxon is a private detective? He's trying to find out..."

"I understand," said Irene. Then, to Johnny, "She was going toward your room, and I followed her. She started looking for something in the clothes closet."

Moe gave a start. Johnny nodded.

"Yes," he said. "I thought so." He was seated on the edge of a table, one leg hooked across its corner. He took a cigarette from his pocket and reached for one.

A slight frown was on his face. He was looking at Irene. "Moe, see if Nancy has that 32 automatic in her bathrobe pocket."

Johnny looked dubious about searching the woman. He went up to Nancy England's arm chair, bent down, gingerly felt the pockets of the wine-colored robe. Then he straightened up and shook his head. "Empty," he said.

"I guess," she would have thought, "you managed to get out a couple of good screams. She got scared and ran through the hallway when the lights went out. She slipped past me and came down here."

The word was softly spoken. Irene Smith kept looking at Nancy's pale-white features.

"I guess," she would have thought, "you managed to get out a couple of good screams. She got scared and ran through the hallway when the lights went out. She slipped past me and came down here."

Chapter 43

"ALL RIGHT," Johnny continued, "so you even stole the Luminal sleeping pills from Karen's room. While I was speaking to Karen in the hallway outside your room, this afternoon, you were right there behind your locked door. You were listening, and you knew she had them. Michael!"

The great Dane had been lying near the fireplace. He got up, came over to Johnny Saxon, raised his head up to have his ears scratched.

Rubbing the dog's ears, Johnny continued, "When a dog doesn't like a person, Nancy, something's wrong. And Michael, here, doesn't like you. He knew you were behind your locked bedroom door this afternoon. That's why he growled."

Rubbing the dog's ears, Johnny finished and stared at Nancy. Her mouth was a thin, grim line. Johnny suspected that she was clamping her teeth tightly together. But she didn't look up.

"Karen told me the pills were missing—later," Johnny said. "Maybe you planned to put them in something Irene might drink—an overdose."

JOHNNY stood up, went over to the fireplace, took Martin Smith's photograph from the mantel. He tilted the silver frame in the light. "It's funny," he mused, "the way a woman can love and hate—a man at the same time. Last night, when I came upon you unexpectedly in this room, Nancy, you had just been holding Martin's picture. In fact, you had kissed it. Lipstick imprints are faintly visible here."

He paused. Kay was staring. Moe looked amazed. No one spoke. "Because," Johnny went on, "Martin had given you the brush-off, you were going to have it out with him that Saturday night at your gun club rendezvous. That's where you used to meet him. That's how Irene, here, found out, because she went there afterwards to work on her book. She found something that must have told her the setup."

Johnny rubbed his fingers through his hair. He felt like a news columnist who specializes in keynotes. Irene Smith saw his hesitation, said, "Go on. Finish it."

"Well," said Johnny, "so you, Nancy, met Martin at the club that night before he went out with his wife. There must have been a scene—and in the midst of it, Irene, here, walked in on you."

Waving his hand, indicating that he was skipping some of the details, Johnny said, "The next morning Martin is found apparently the victim of a holdup. His wife, trying to drive frantically to get help, cracks up the machine. The accident injures her head and she remembers nothing that happened. So the secret of what occurred that night is locked in her mind—and no one except Irene knew about you and Martin. No one would ever know about your love affair with Martin, or that on that Saturday night at the gun club you had taken an automatic from the gun case and were ready to kill him."

Johnny's eyes moved across the room, back to Nancy's motionless figure in the chair. Nick Walker was shaking his head slowly. Doctor Clark now stood up near Karen. She was gripping his arm. Both were tense.

"Then," Johnny added, "I arrived here. You discovered Kay's slight figure was in motion. 'Here,' he ordered. Karen helped him. They placed Nancy on a divan. The others were motioned back. 'Get a blanket,' Clark snapped. Then he said something quickly to Nick Walker."

Walker ran out of the room. They heard the front door open. There was the sound of wind and rain. Karen rushed back into the library with a heavy blanket. "Wrap it around her," ordered the doctor.

Kay was standing with her arm around her mother. She led her away, toward a corner of the room. Moe was picking up the gun. Johnny himself had seized the great Dane by the collar. The dog, leaping to his feet at the sound of the shot, was excited and restless.

The whole thing, Johnny realized, had happened with camera-fast speed.
